

Consent Form - TCLE

Dear Participant,

You are invited to participate in a research study investigating how software industry professionals are incorporating Artificial Intelligence (AI) into the software development process. The purpose of this study is to identify usage patterns, challenges, and opportunities associated with AI adoption in this context. Your participation is entirely voluntary and does not involve any evaluation of your professional performance.

1) Procedures

If you agree to participate in this study, we ask that you:

Take part in an interview about your experience using Artificial Intelligence in software development;

Allow the interview to be recorded for subsequent transcription and analysis.

The transcription may be performed manually or with the assistance of Artificial Intelligence tools, while preserving your anonymity at all times. Your personal information will remain confidential throughout the study. The results will be anonymized and may be reported in scientific publications, together with qualitative and quantitative analyses.

2) Confidentiality

All data collected during this study will be used exclusively for research purposes and will not be used in any form of professional or personal evaluation. All information provided will be treated as confidential. Neither your identity nor the identity of your organization will be disclosed in any way unless explicit authorization is granted.

3) Benefits and Risks

Although there are no direct benefits to participants, this study will contribute to research in Software Engineering, particularly in understanding how industry professionals are incorporating Artificial Intelligence into software development.

All research involving human participants carries some level of risk. However, participation in this study does not involve any financial cost or burden to you, and no reimbursement or compensation will be provided.

4) Voluntary Participation

Your participation in this study is entirely voluntary. Even if you choose to participate, you may withdraw at any time without any penalty or negative consequences. If you decide to withdraw, all data collected from you will be destroyed and excluded from the analysis.

You may also ask questions about the study at any time before deciding whether to participate or at any point during the research.

5) Consent Statement

I have read, or had read to me, the information contained in this informed consent form before agreeing to participate. I confirm that any technical language used to describe this study has been explained to me in a way that I understand, and that all of my questions have been answered satisfactorily.

I also confirm that I have received a copy of this Informed Consent Form. I understand that I am free to withdraw from the study at any time without penalty. I confirm that I am at least 18 years old and voluntarily agree to participate in this study.

For any questions or further clarification, please contact the research team.
